

Bee and Flower:

This is not a love story

A short play by Wanda Huffkin

©Wanda Huffkin, 2011

5 The Old Street,

London, SW12 3PP

email: wanda@huffkin.co.uk

Bee and Flower: This is not a love story

Wanda Huffkin

Dramatis personae

(or, Cast)

(or, Characters)

BEE            45 year old man, dressed in striped yellow and black pyjamas

FLOWER        22 year old woman with a bright red coat

The play is set in BEE's expensive Dockside apartment/hive.

ACT ONE

SCENE 1

(The BEE's hive. The BEE and the FLOWER are in bed. The BEE wakes up.)

BEE: I enjoyed that.

FLOWER: I want to go now.

BEE: What? Now?

FLOWER: Yes.

BEE: But I thought maybe we could go for a walk, maybe see a film. Or I could get a DVD in and I'll cook you dinner.

FLOWER: No, I just have to go.

BEE: But, I thought...

(The FLOWER gets out of bed and pulls on her coat.)

BEE (Cont): But I want to spend the day with you, I thought...

FLOWER: Look, I didn't see last night like that. I'm sorry Bee.

BEE: Oh.

FLOWER: I'm sorry.

BEE: But it was fun, wasn't it?

FLOWER: I don't know about fun...

BEE: Oh Flower... since the first time I saw you, I knew you were the one.

FLOWER: I don't feel like that.

BEE: Is there someone else?